LIBRARY

. . . we must know ourselves,

and know that we are an influential force in our relationships with patients and society.

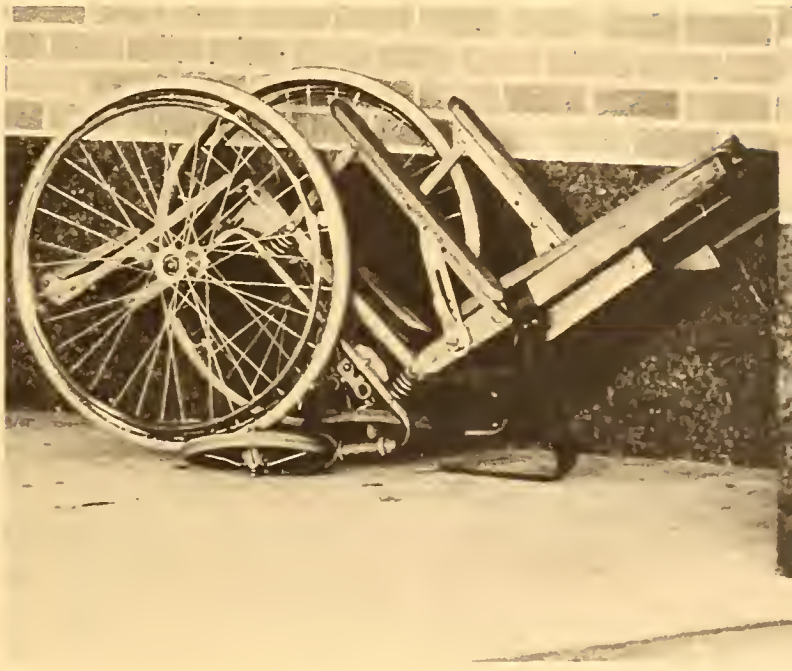
For ourselves we seek sensitivity, perception, judgement, creativity, honor, enlightenment, scholarship, and as in any relationship, the fulfillment of our own needs.

This is our directive: a concern and a willingness to act not only for the individual, but also for the community of peoples.

EMERGENCY

2572

Every person deserves to be respected as an individual, and as a member of a culture, to be provided with available health services . . .



not only to live, but also to die with dignity.

. . . we will attempt to assure these rights. Ours is to make the ideal of quality in our care of people a reality.

EMERG.

Upon the occassion of publicly signing this pledge we dedicate our professional lives to nursing care of quality.

STUDENT LIFE
1894-1976
We've come a long way, baby . . .

Classes of 1951 and 1976 . . .

It's been twenty-five years and we've rung in the new, even if we're still wearing those Columbian blues!

We may all feel love,
We may all feel hate,
  and that is good
For when we become
  indifferent,
  devoid of feeling,
Then the music of life
  ceases to have meaning.

JUNIORS

"So you want to be a nurse . . ."

Your stomach tightens
a nervous uneasy feeling
like the fragrance of the air
before a storm —
gently yet foreboding.
Something is about to begin
and all your excitement is building up to an unknown event.
You can feel it —
it is good . . . yet brings with it some bad . .

Amy E. Phillips

Take time to work,
it is the price of success.
Take time to think,
it is the source of power.
Take time to play,
it is the secret of youth.
Take time to help and enjoy friends,
it is the source of happiness.
Take time to dream,
it hitches the soul to the stars.
Take time to laugh,
it is the singing that helps life's load.
Take time to love,
it is the one sacrement of life . . .

I have another duty, just as sacred . . . my duty to myself . . .
I believe that before everything else I'm a human being . . .
just as much as you are . . . or at any rate I shall try to become one. I know quite well that most people would agree with you;
and that you have a warrant for it in books;
but I can't be satisfied any longer
with what most people say and whats in books, I must think things out for myself and try to understand them.
